DESCRIPTION

There's a moment when you step inside — 22-foot ceilings and walls of glass frame a California ease unexpected in Lakewood. This is architecture as experience, where the tactile warmth of Venetian plaster and the precision of bespoke stonework create a sense of grounded, quiet permanence. The entry commands attention: a sculptural fireplace anchors the double-height space, while a floating glass staircase with motion-activated LED lights draws the eye upward. It's drama without pretense. In the kitchen, a 12-foot waterfall island and Thermador appliances meet rift-cut oak cabinetry. A hidden, Bosch-equipped back kitchen keeps the main stage clear for entertaining. The floor plan is an exercise in social choreography: a glass wine display serves as a central focal point, while the wet bar is perfectly positioned to carry guests between the media and game rooms. The downstairs primary suite with a spa-inspired bath offers a serene departure from the gathering spaces, while a separate, moody guest suite ensures privacy. Upstairs, three additional en-suite bedrooms join a media room and a flexible space for a gym or studio. The experience culminates in the sunken, multi-level backyard. Glass walls slide away, blending light-filled interiors with an effortless outdoor flow. This creates a natural footprint for a custom pool to complete the sun-drenched retreat. A rare lifestyle offering, situated minutes from Lower Greenville's vibrant culinary scene, the scenic trails of White Rock Lake, and high-end shopping & dining in the heart of Dallas. This isn't just new construction; it's a fully realized vision — bold, refined, and uncompromising.
