DESCRIPTION

Set on more than half an acre in Dallas' coveted private school corridor near Strait Lane and the Northaven Trail, this custom Edinburgh-inspired residence blends enduring architecture with refined modern living. Handsome Lueders limestone, cedar beams and accents, and a majestic setback framed by mature trees create a timeless and serene arrival. Thoughtful design and expert floor-planning define the interiors, offering generously scaled ensuite bedrooms in a split configuration and a private primary retreat with fireplace, heated floors, steam and spray shower, soaking tub, and an expansive dressing room. Walls of windows bathe the home in natural light, while an isolated first-floor guest suite offers exceptional privacy. The home's natural hub is a beautifully appointed chef's kitchen equipped with professional-grade appliances including a 6-burner range with griddle, dual ovens with steamer, warming drawer, built-in coffee system, ice maker, and beverage refrigerator. A generous island invites gathering, complemented by butler's and walk-in pantries. The kitchen flows seamlessly into the great room, anchored by a finely scaled wood-burning fireplace. Upstairs, a grand game room with wet bar anchors three private ensuite bedrooms, along with a dedicated media room and mirrored exercise studio. Smart living is thoughtfully integrated with Crestron Home automation, Lutron lighting, Sonos sound, and three garage bays equipped with EV charging. Outdoors the covered veranda awaits beholding an outdoor fireplace, grilling station, a lagoon-style heated pool-spa-cascading waterfall —perfect for evenings under the Texas sky. Supplemental documents are available for a detailed list of upgrades.
